

SAINT JAMES STUDENTS RAISE MONEY TO FIGHT BREAST CANCER

Saint James School seventh grade student Abigail Kelly and sixth grade student Melanie Guido raised more than $1,000 for a local breast cancer charity during an October weekend. Abigail designed a t-shirt emblazoned with the saying "Go Pink or Go Home" and the iconic pink ribbon. She added paw prints, representative of the RFH Pop Warner Bull Dogs, and the girls sold the t-shirts and pink bracelets at Pop Warner football games.

St. James School students Abigail Kelly and Melanie Guido raised money for the fight against breast cancer.

Abigail's brothers, AJ and Timmy, play for Pop Warner, so she approached the organization about holding the fundraiser at home games on the weekends. Pop Warner representatives decided to dedicate the games to breast cancer awareness.

The home field, Two River Times Field at Borden Stadium, was decked out in pink ribbons and crepe paper. Football players and cheerleaders added a splash of pink to their uniforms.

With the help of Firehouse Specialty Shop in Red Bank, the design was printed in pink and black t-shirts. The money the girls raised from the sale will benefit The Beauty Foundation for Cancer Care, a Red Bank-based charity that assists local families affected by breast cancer by easing the financial strain by helping to cover the costs of the things not covered by health care insurance.